Members,

The Education Committee has organized the following courses which are open to all Members.

Planning For Your Future

This popular one day seminar style course is designed for anyone who wants to plan for their retirement, even if it seems like a long way down the road. This course provides an overview of both financial and lifestyle planning issues, and compliments the more specific employer pension plan related topics covered in our "Understanding Your Pension" course. Representatives from Service Canada, experts in financial planning, estate law and others will make presentations discussing various facets of planning for your eventual retirement. This course is not intended to cover specific pension plans or to give financial advice but rather to explore other considerations you should be making when thinking about your future plans. This course is free of charge to all CAW members and is also open to your spouse/partner to attend.

Date: Saturday, February 19, 9:00 am - 4:00 pm

Location: Council Chambers - first floor of Gilmour Hall - Room 111

Light buffet lunch provided

Registration Deadline: You must pre-register for this course via email at education@cawlocal555.ca before the end of the day Friday, February 7th.

Community Environment

This course explores some of the most pressing environmental issues we face today; climate change, pollution, energy use, water safety and water usage. Topics include a discussion about the growing concern about increased disease rates and connections with environmental pollutants. If you are looking for a better understanding of the challenges we face around the environment and a real sense of what can be done individually and collectively this is the course for you!

Dates: Wednesdays, March 2 & 9, 5:30 pm - 9:30 pm

Location: TBA

Light buffet dinner provided

Registration Deadline: You must pre-register for this course via email at <education@cawlocal555.ca> before the end of the day on Friday, February 18th.

Parking, for the above courses, is covered for those who do not ordinarily work on campus.

For more information about the above courses or any future courses please email the education committee at <education@cawlocal555.ca>.

The Education Committee welcomes any members wanting to join our committee. If you are interested in becoming more involved, please see Dan Ciavarella, Beth Couchman, Delia Hutchinson, Kim Sardella, Janet Walsh, or email Sam Vrankulj at <sam.vrankulj@cawlocal555.ca>.

In Solidarity,

CAW Local 555
